

FINANCES AND CUBA MINGLED

Senator Cockrell Spoke Four Hours for Free Coinage.

Senate Went Into an Executive Session on It.

NOTHING OF IMPORT WAS DONE, HOWEVER

House Has Unsettled Robbins, of Alabama—Savannah's Public Building.

Washington, March 12.—(Special.)—Senator Cockrell consumed all of today's session of the senate in a very strong free coinage speech. Senatorial courtesy entitled him to the floor, and he took it and consumed the day and even the night with his resolutions. However, before Cockrell got to the floor there was a little brush over the Cuba matter.

Senator Lodge told the senate that the committee on foreign relations had some important information on the Cuban question which had been sent from the state department, and which contained a communication from the Spanish minister. The information, he said, was private and could not be submitted to the open senate. This brought Senator Wolcott to his feet to inquire how it was that the senate could be asked to act upon such an important matter when the committee on foreign relations had information which it would not divulge. Senator Hoar suggested that an executive session be had for the purpose of deciding the communication. But Senator Cockrell spoke until nearly 5 o'clock. A brief executive session was then held, but no few senators were present that the Cuban question went over until Monday.

Undoubtedly there is a growing reversal of sentiment in the senate. DeLoane, the Spanish minister, has convinced the secretary of state and several senators that the Spanish troops will soon put down the rebellion. Several senators feel that the Cubans cannot possibly win now, and that he had best hands off the affair.

The news comes from the white house that the differences between Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Olney have not been adjusted. Mr. Cleveland told a senator that he had never expressed himself in opposition to recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans. He had not attempted to influence congress one way or the other. The senator says if joint resolutions recognizing the belligerent rights of the Cubans are sent to the white house, Mr. Cleveland will bow to the will of congress and sign the resolutions. The senator's statement has been made by Secretary Olney, who is decidedly opposed to such recognition. Secretary Olney is deeply offended because Mr. Cleveland will not take decided grounds against the pending resolutions. Olney is fighting them with chunks of ammunition on the Spanish side that he is daily furnishing his senatorial supporters, and the same is having effect. A dozen senators have announced that they want to speak. This simply means that the resolutions cannot be voted upon for a week or more, and may be hung up for a month. In the meantime the Spanish will push their campaign in Cuba against the insurgents, hoping to put an end to the rebellion before this government can act.

House Unsettled Robbins.

By a vote of 75 to 53 the house this afternoon unseated Mr. Robbins, of Alabama, and seated Mr. Aldrich, the republican candidate. Mr. Robbins had a bad case and many democrats absented themselves in order not to vote on such a question. Three Missouri democrats present voted with the republicans to unseat Mr. Robbins. Of more than a hundred democrats in the house but fifty-nine were present to support the minority report of the committee. Undoubtedly there was fraud in the Dallas county vote. Aldrich presented much testimony to prove this, while, on the other hand, Mr. Robbins took no testimony. The democrats of the decision committee did the best they could for Mr. Robbins, but unfortunately he had a very bad case. In view of this fact the republican majority is not subject to the usual criticism which they deserve for quashing democrats.

Savannah Public Building.

The public building committee of the house today reported favorably several bills for the construction of a new public building building, including one for an additional appropriation of $100,000 for the building already provided for at Savannah. The increase will give Savannah, perhaps the handsomest government building in the state.

The Sunday freight train case was again postponed by the supreme court. Attorney General Terrell will, therefore, have to remain until Monday to make his argument. Mr. Bowdler Phillips, of Augusta, arrived tonight. Mr. Phillips is the proprietor of The Augusta Herald, and will remain here several days writing letters for his paper.

COCKRELL'S STRONG SPEECH.

Made a Speech on the Side of Free Coinage.

Washington, March 12.—The financial condition of the government was presented in a four-hour speech by Mr. Cockrell, in which he asserted that every government obligation was payable in gold or silver coin, at the option of the government; and he charged that Mr. Charles Foster, while secretary of the treasury, had in October, 1895, surrendered voluntarily, meekly and submissively the right of the government to redeem the United States notes or greenbacks in silver as well as in gold. That action on the part of Mr. Foster, Mr. Cockrell described as the Pandora's box out of which had come all the financial ills that had since fallen upon the country.

Referring to Secretary Carlisle's recent speech in New York, Mr. Cockrell said that the disguise had been thrown aside and that "sound money" meant gold and silver. He declared that such a metamorphosis was anti-democratic, contrary to the entire record of the democratic party up to 1872 and contrary to the democratic platform. He declared that gold was monarchy, and silver for the rich; silver for the poor. When war was hovering over the country gold fled into its hiding places and remained secreted until white-winged peace spread above once more. Witness the Venezuelan message, he said, sent here with a string tied to it indicating the possibility of war, when the gold standard trembled to its foundations. England, he declared, had been unable with all the resources of the Bank of England to carry out its gold monometallic standard, and twice had to borrow from France. He denied that a courageous advocacy of free silver would divide the democratic party. Reading from a list of democratic representatives elected in 1892 and 1894 he showed that there had been a terrible falling off of democratic representatives elected in the latter year, due to the fact that election had been under the gold monometallic standard of President Cleveland. Mr. Cockrell quoted extensively from the speeches of Secretary Carlisle, and speaking of his speech at Covington last summer, declared that he was loath to believe that any secretary of the treasury could make such ridiculous statements until he read a similar statement made by other tools in the employ of the gold bullion company of New York. It was ludicrous that Secretary Carlisle should attempt to "bolster up" the theories to which he had become a recent convert by reliance on such "stuffs" as that, the only excuse being the latitude always allowed for the zeal of converts.

He appealed for the re-establishment of the conditions existing prior to 1873, for the country could not be worse off than it had been since the perpetration of the crime of putting the battleship Indiana in a dry dock. It was said that the nearest available dry dock was at Halifax, the possibilities of the dock at Port Royal not having been tested.

It was realized that it would never do to send the Indiana to Halifax, and attention was attracted to the just completed dock, and inquiry showed that the dock here, as well as the port was in every way suited to the task. There are plenty of docks in the country, but the one at Port Royal seems to be the only one complete with a sufficient width of gate to admit such first-class battleships as the Indiana.

The docking has been anxiously awaited and has been looked forward to with great interest on the south Atlantic coast. The railroad worked large excursions and there was quite an invasion of visitors to see the docking and the noted vessel. They came by the hundreds from South Carolina and Georgia and by noon there were about 2,000 visitors on the dock.

The docking was a grand success. The Indiana lying out in the stream like a floating brown stone fort. The docks were soon crowded with visitors and the announcement that the battleship would be open to visitors at 1 o'clock was well received.

The Indiana had quite a rough time of it down from Hampton Roads, encountering a gale and heavy southwest winds. The hatches leaked a bit from the firing of the heavy guns fore and aft for the board of inspection.

Captain Evans is delighted with the trip thus far. Pilot Lee was brought down on the Indiana, and brought the immense vessel over just as if he were a toy. The Indiana is drawing 24.5, and had she been drawing 25 she could have come in as well. When she came up to the dock she anchored. The west winds were against the tide, and cut it somewhat shorter or the entry to the dock would have been made this morning. If nothing unfavorable occurs and the western winds are not too high the docking will be completed by the morning at the high tide. The dock, people and all are ready and anxious for the docking of the Indiana and giving her bottom the first cleaning it has received since it left the Cramps shipyard.

Given a Social Turn.

The naval vessel has been given something of a social turn, the sailors from Georgia and South Carolina were accompanied by their governors and staff officers. Quite early in the morning the lighthouse tender, Wisteria, had aboard, bound for the dry docks, the invited guests, among whom were Governor Evans, of South Carolina; Governor Atkinson, of Georgia; Congressman Elliott, who has a fatherly interest in the event, having been the first to protest the dock. Accompanying Governor Evans were Adjutant General Watts, Military Secretary Stokes, United States army, and Colonel McCraw, of the Georgia National Guard. Also present were Messrs. Neel, Martin, Lockwood, Appell, Matfield and Beech. Accompanying Governor Atkinson were Adjutant General Kell, Assistant Adjutant General Hildreth, and Major Anderson. General Brown, of the Georgia National Guard, Elliott, Wilkes, Calloway, Messick, West, Inspector General Ober, Comptroller General Wright, Clark Howell, editor of the Savannah Daily, and Mr. Anderson, manager of The Journal; C. A. Collier, W. T. Sanders and other representative business men.

Charleston sent a large delegation headed by the city council, and among the party were Federal Judges Minton and Brawley, and Major Hemphill, editor of The News and Courier, Charleston. Savannah, Augusta and other neighboring cities were represented. Most of the day was spent sight seeing by the visitors. Upon the arrival of the guests at the naval station they were received by Hon. mandant Rockwell, Chief Engineer of Construction Macey and the attaches of the station. After being shown about the Paris Exposition, the guests were taken to the Evans and party were received with salutes aboard the Indiana. When a party such as this meets, speeches are a natural result. The first speaker was Governor Evans, who made a call for speeches, and short talks were made by Governor Atkinson, Governor Evans, Congressman Elliott, Colonel Wilkes, of Georgia, and Major Lockwood.

Merriam at the Docking.

There was some merriment over the crossing of the Indiana to the dock, that are thought to be in the bonnets of the two governors. The government coast survey boat Blake is now in Port Royal ready to see whether there have been any changes in the courses of the channels since the last survey. If the Indiana goes in the dock on time in the morning the expectation is that the large ship will be in the basin empty by noon. The two main pumps have a capacity of 3,500 gallons a minute, which means the clearing of the basin in an hour and forty minutes. The government representatives of shipping yards, government representatives, the press and many others interested were here in full force to see the docking tomorrow.

Tonight the visitors were tendered a reception and the town people called on the governors for speeches. The weather has been fine with the exception of the west wind.

Most of the visitors left for their homes this afternoon. Governor Atkinson and party left here for Atlanta at 11 o'clock tonight.

Reception Tonight Night.

At the reception tonight speeches were made by Governors Evans and Atkinson, Congressman Elliott and Colonel Wilkes, of Georgia. The speech of Governor Evans was confined largely to Port Royal's opportunities and the conditions that have existed.

Storage Warehouse Burned.

Savannah, Va., March 12.—A storage warehouse owned by the Virginia Manufacturing Company, one of the largest manufacturers of fruit packages in the south, was today burned with contents, consisting of crates, baskets, etc. Loss is approximately at $150,000 and is only partially covered by insurance.

Robeson Furnace Blown Out.

Robeson, Pa., March 12.—The Robeson furnace, which has been in blast the past eighteen months, was blown out today. This stack produced nearly 1,000 tons of iron weekly and carried off 100 men of work.

GOVERNOR ATKINSON LEFT LAST NIGHT

Reception Was Given Last Night and There Was Speaking—Indiana's Armament.

Beaufort, S. C., March 12.—There is about to be another trial in the rapid and substantial naval development of the United States. Some time ago, when there was talk of putting the battleship Indiana in a dry dock, it was said that the nearest available dry dock was at Halifax, the possibilities of the dock at Port Royal not having been tested.

It was realized that it would never do to send the Indiana to Halifax, and attention was attracted to the just completed dock, and inquiry showed that the dock here, as well as the port was in every way suited to the task. INDIANA IS FAULTY.

ARRANGEMENT OF GUNS NOT AT ALL SATISFACTORY.

Massachusetts Soon To Be Given a Trial and Then Docked at Port Royal.

Philadelphia, March 12.—(Special.)—Private advice received in this city today conveyed the information that the main point of the new battleship Indiana that the result of the gun trials at sea of that big fighting machine have been disappointing and unsatisfactory.

The fault apparently lies with those who designed her heavy armament and not in any way with her construction. The armament was designed six years ago, largely as an experiment and there was a very serious difference of opinion at that time among naval constructors and experts as to the weight of the guns.

Her armament consists of four thirteen-inch guns each forty feet long and weighing sixty-three tons, mounted in pairs in the two main turrets. Eight eight-inch guns are mounted in pairs in the four smaller turrets on the upper deck, four six-inch guns are mounted in broadside in the upper casement amidships, with a secondary battery of twelve three-pounders and four galling guns in the military tops.

This forms the heaviest and most diversified armament ever placed on any vessel of like dimensions. Its weight is enormous, and the amount of discharge would unsettle the complete discharge of the main battery alone would be 6,800 pounds. The result of her sea trial shows that these guns are too big and are not placed so as to be operated in action as designed.

The two thirteen-inch guns and the four eight-inch guns in the main turrets and the eight-inch guns in the upper turrets are arranged in a straight line forward and aft without great regard to the distribution of weight beneath them. The discharge of the big guns in the upper turrets on the trial almost blew the head off a gunner's turret. It was found impossible also to operate the thirteen-inch guns in a broadside, because the discharge would unsettle the ship. When fired straight ahead on the trial the explosion caused the iron battle hatches on a main deck to fly off and otherwise show things up.

The charge for one of these big guns varies from 475 to 525 pounds of hexagonal powder, and a naval expert fears that the ship would cripple herself before she had been in action half an hour. It is likely that the big guns will be used for coast defense and small caliber guns for the main battle. There may, also, be a general shifting of the armament.

The same trouble will be encountered with the Massachusetts, the exact counterpart and sister ship of the Indiana, which will be given an unofficial trial by her builders, starting next Tuesday. The trial will not be a day or two, but will be given in the morning of the day. The trial will not be a day or two, but will be given in the morning of the day. COMMISSION IS BUSILY AT WORK

Many Conflicting Maps and Documents Have Been Found.

BLUE BOOK EXPECTED DAILY

Venezuela's Side of the Case Is on the Way Here.

IT CONTAINS MANY VALUABLE RECORDS

There Will Be No Argument in the Case—Recently Acquired Territory.

Washington, March 12.—The Venezuelan commission, at its regular meeting today, with all the members present, virtually reached the conclusion that the main point of the dispute hinged on documents lying in the royal archives of Spain and Holland, and perhaps some other countries, and that while such documents would probably be quoted by each of the disputants in support of the contradictory claims presented, the duty would devolve on a commission not only to verify by actual examination all such documents, but if practicable to develop contemporary documents which might throw side lights upon the evidence submitted.

While definite action was postponed until the full British and Venezuelan cases shall have been formally brought under consideration, there remains no doubt that some of the commissioners, or at all events, the secretary of the commission, Mr. Malet Prevost, and agents under his direction, will soon be sent to Madrid and The Hague. It is said that this determination is not due to the alleged discovery of misquotations in decrees and treaties already in the commission's possession, but from the conviction that the discovery of such documents would not only be a great help to the commission, but would also be a great help to the public. The commission is not to be open to any attack as to the inconclusiveness of the pivotal evidence upon which the decision will in all probability be found to depend.

In the preliminary investigations of the commission they have been confronted with numerous diametrically conflicting maps and translations. Within the past few days the commission has received a large number of maps and translations. The commission is not to be open to any attack as to the inconclusiveness of the pivotal evidence upon which the decision will in all probability be found to depend.

The regular copies for the commission will arrive here in all probability tomorrow evening or Monday next. While access to a state department copy has been allowed, there has been no opportunity to examine it fully.

Testimony from Venezuela.

The Venezuelan minister has been notified by cable from his government that the first installment of official evidence for the consideration of the high commission left La Guayra on the steamer Philadelphia on the 10th inst. and is due to arrive in New York next Tuesday.

The documents relate exclusively to the period near the close of the eighteenth century taken from the royal Spanish archives and have not heretofore been accessible to Great Britain or at least to the British government. They will all be put forward to demonstrate the inadmissibility of Dutch claims to any territory west of the Essequibo. A large number of the documents are of the date of 1780, 1781, 1782, 1783, 1784, 1785, 1786, 1787, 1788, 1789, 1790, 1791, 1792, 1793, 1794, 1795, 1796, 1797, 1798, 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808, 1809, 1810, 1811, 1812, 1813, 1814, 1815, 1816, 1817, 1818, 1819, 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, 1827, 1828, 1829, 1830, 1831, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1835, 1836, 1837, 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841, 1842, 1843, 1844, 1845, 1846, 1847, 1848, 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1858, 1859, 1860, 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 22

FIGHT AGAINST FREE COINAGE

Administration Sending Out Single Standard Apostles.

SEC. SMITH'S HARD WORK

He Has Been Deputed To Turn Georgia's Sentiment Over.

OTHERS HAVE TROUBLE ON THEIR HANDS

Silver Stands Pat for Recognition—An Anti-Option Bill Story That Is Told.

Washington, March 13.—(Special.)—Every day brings additional news encouraging to the free coinage democrats. Counting all over the country are acting and adopting free coinage resolutions. The District of Columbia, supposed to be a hot-box of gold sentiment, has just had a primary election for delegates to the national democratic convention at Chicago and has elected four democrats who are outspoken advocates of the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver. It was a hard fight, but the free coinage men under the leadership of Andrew J. Lipscomb, a former Georgian, won.

Through this means but two votes in the national convention, it will undoubtedly have great effect throughout the country. With the administration solidly arrayed for the gold standard every one naturally supposed that the city of Washington and the District of Columbia would elect a gold delegation to the Chicago convention.

Mr. Lipscomb, however, told me several weeks ago that he believed the people of this country were overwhelmingly for the free coinage of silver. He asserted that the democrats of Washington would vote that way if a full and free expression of opinion could be got from him. He went vigorously to work to bring out a full vote and the result has justified his prediction.

The administration people view it with alarm. They look upon it as an omen of what the entire country may do, and are therefore making preparations for a renewed effort to stem the free coinage tide which is sweeping over everything.

Secretary Hoke Smith having taken alarm has announced that he will go to Georgia within the next ten days to make a number of speeches against the free coinage of silver. The president, in parceling out the states among his cabinet officers and followers, naturally gave Georgia to Secretary Smith. It is his duty to prevent that state from sending an instructed free coinage delegation to the Chicago convention. Mr. Smith well realizes that he does not expect to win, but he proposes to do the best he can.

In speaking of the question of the silver democrats controlling the next convention Senator Berry, of Arkansas, said today that while he did not know what other states would do, he believed every county in Arkansas would send straight out free coinage men to the state convention to nominate delegates to Chicago.

Virginia is a state the goldbugs have been claiming. These claims have aroused the ire of Senator Daniel and he has already inaugurated an active and vigorous campaign in the Old Dominion. The chances are that the Virginia convention will speak out overwhelmingly for free coinage and will send an instructed delegation to Chicago.

Indeed, similar news is coming in from all of the southern and western states, notably from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Ohio is claimed to be a free coinage state. It is said the democratic convention, soon to be held, will declare outright for the free coinage of silver. Young Allen Thurman is leading the fight on that line, and many of the gold men admit there is a strong probability of Ohio sending an instructed free coinage delegation to the Chicago democratic convention.

The action of the Ohio convention demonstrates that McKinley sees much strength in the protection and free coinage demand made by the western republican senators. As a matter of fact Teller, Dubois, and the other silver republican senators, are playing a strong card with the eastern manufacturers in this. They are predicting a number of eastern delegates to the convention who will advocate such a platform. They propose in the convention to make a strong fight, just as they made in the senate, declaring that there shall be no protection unless free coinage goes with it. Possibly they cannot win straight, but they will force another straddle, or else there will be a split in the republican party.

The silver republicans propose to oppose any man's nomination unless he will agree to sign a free coinage bill in the event the leading republicans in all the southern states to bring about a fusion with the populists. Even in Georgia, it is said, there will be fusion on this line.

It is understood here that the cry of protection and free coinage is to be used by the leading republicans in all the southern states to bring about a fusion with the populists. Even in Georgia, it is said, there will be fusion on this line.

Representative U. S. Hall, the old Farmers' Alliance president, who topped over to the gold side last year, after several interviews with Mr. Cleveland, is now at home working to stop the tide. He has called for help from here, and Uncle Joshua Patterson, of Tennessee, is going out to help the gold cause. Then Uncle Joe is going down to Tennessee to stem the tide there.

The administration people have divided up the states in making the fight for gold supremacy. Hall is expected to do work in Missouri, and Colonel Patterson is to work in Tennessee. These two statesmen are helping each other, but all indications are that they have not the force to stem the free coinage tide.

The free coinage men have accepted the challenge of the goldbugs and will resort to the same tactics. They propose to send instructed delegations to the Chicago convention from each state in which they can control and have the fight out.

Many of the gold men declare they will bolt the ticket if a free coinage man is nominated. Such threats, however, will prevent the free coinage democrats doing just that thing if they control the convention.

An Anti-Option Story.

The house committee on agriculture has tabled the anti-option bill. This was done over the protest of the six democratic members of the committee, who requested that the bill be voted upon directly and reported to the house, even though it be reported adversely. The democrats wanted the house given an opportunity to vote upon the bill, but the republicans objected. It is a question they fear handling just preceding an election.

This means that the bill is dead. The house will have no opportunity to vote upon it.

Speaking of this bill a southern member of congress, who has been advocating it, has just received a quiet letter from one of his "able and learned" constituents.

The constituent in question wrote that he has read of his attitude in the papers and he was "durned tired of this local option question being voted upon every year."

The letter continued: "I want to put you on notice that if you try to bring up this local option question again I am going to see that this county goes against you in the next election."

The congressman had to write a lengthy letter explaining the difference between the anti-option bill and the local option question in his constituent's county.

THREE HUNDRED FAILURES.

RECORD FOR THE WEEK IS AHEAD OF SAME WEEK IN 1895.

Prices Were Lowest About February 21st—Interesting Comparison in Cotton and Cotton Goods.

New York, March 13.—R. G. Dun & Co. will say tomorrow in their weekly review of trade:

"Failures for the week have been 300 in the United States against 256 last year and sixty in Canada against fifty-seven last year.

"Large hopes, but little actual business, explains the strength of some markets and the weakness of others. Thus far there is a decided increase in the demand for boots and shoes, secured by concessions in price, but in other branches of business concessions are made in vain or are not made. Meanwhile it is encouraging to know that one of the most important business interests has realized definite improvement. The insurance companies of which returns are given in detail this week show a large business and larger income than ever before and also a most remarkable soundness of mortgage bonds and other improvements.

"As prices about February 21st were, on the whole, the lowest ever known in this country, considerable space is given this week to comparison of quotations in the most important branches of business, which show the extent of reaction since the rise last fall. It is especially noteworthy that prices of materials have varied quite differently from prices of manufactured products. Thus cotton is 2.5 per cent higher than a year ago, but cotton goods average only 10.7 per cent. Wool is 5.3 per cent higher than a year ago, but woolen goods are on the whole about 4 per cent lower. Pig iron is only 17 per cent higher than a year ago, while finished products of iron and steel average 45 per cent higher. Boots and shoes are practically not higher than a year ago, while leather has risen 11.5 per cent and hides at the moment are only 2.2 per cent higher. These comparisons are important because they disclose something of the grave dislocation of prices which inadequate consumption and combinations have produced. The output of pig iron March 1st was 189,583 tons weekly against 178,549 last year, but the unsold stocks have risen 28,724 tons during the past month or 17.44 weekly, and the unsold stocks of the great steel companies are not included. There is reason to believe that actual consumption is still at least 10 per cent smaller than the production of pig iron and the price of Bessemer at Pittsburgh has again declined to $12.25 with exceptional large sales even below that figure. Prices of finished products are not quotably lower, although all markets are weak in tone. Of the minor metals copper is in moderate demand at 11.15 cents and there is more movement in tin at 24 cents, while lead is slightly weaker at 3.15 cents. Tin plates are weak in part because of the light demand. Cotton goods sell but slowly notwithstanding recent reductions in price and the enormous accumulation of unsold stocks causes apprehension in many quarters. In woolens the demand is very large, but for low grade goods, and fierce competition affects the prices of the better grades materially. In all, worsted manufactures have been so far overdone that stoppage of some of the most important works is considered not improbable. Sales of goods at the three chief markets are the smallest in five years. Prices are still maintained with decrease in Australian supplies.

"The market for wheat is weaker with no better reason than the government report of wheat in farmers' hands, which is altogether out of keeping with the government estimate a year ago and yet is probably more nearly correct.

"Corn is a shade firmer. Cotton gained a sixteenth, although the prospect of yield this year is at least as good as it has been at any time. The stock market has not been much changed."

What Bradstreet's Says.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"The only conspicuously favorable feature of the general business situation is found in Bradstreet's report of February gross railway earnings throughout the country. Receipts of 136 companies last month were larger than a single exception than in any preceding month for more than three years, the February total, 1896, being $34,484,000, a gain over that total last year of nearly 14 per cent. The heaviest gains in gross earnings last month are reported by the granaries, the Pacific and southern lines. The latter named, with from 22 to 20 per cent larger totals than in February last year. Total roads.

"The week's total bank clearings—$48,000,000—indicate business moderately active without special impetus. Contrasted with a week ago this week's total is 11 per cent higher. The clearing of the week ending the second week of March, 1895.

"General trade shows no marked changes. Distribution of merchandise is most active in dry goods, hardware, shoes and millinery, paints, oils and heavy chemicals, but has been unsatisfactory. Jobbers report spring trade of a waiting character due to belated shipments and unusual cold weather. Collections, with few exceptions, are no better and in many instances less satisfactory, which tends to retard the movement of merchandise. The cotton goods manufacturing industry is unsatisfactory with a slack demand and a heavy stock. Production has been restricted and as further shrinkage is talked of, frims and gingham are most favorable. Transactions in raw wool are active and the market is dull. Iron and steel are as quiet as in preceding weeks, and in some respects unfavorably situated.

"From all these general trade indications throughout the country may be said to be as satisfactory as the middle of March, 1896, than had been anticipated.

"The prices of staple commodities, to make and maintain advances. Among decreases in quotations are those for flour, steel, Indian corn, oats, lard, print cloth, steel and pig iron, while prices of wool, leather, cork, pork and sugar are nominally unchanged. The market for foreign goods is quiet. The improvement in the market for foreign goods is quiet. The improvement in the market for foreign goods is quiet.

"Business failures in the United States this week are reported at 300, the highest total since the middle of March, 1895, when the total was 256. The failures in the United States this week are reported at 300, the highest total since the middle of March, 1895, when the total was 256.

STAYS WHERE HE IS

The Plumbing Inspector Is Non-Transferable.

WARM TALK AT A MEETING

In Which Members of the Triple Alliance and the Sanitary Inspector Indulged.

The board of health, the sanitary committee and the ordinance committee, the last two representing the general council, convened in joint session yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was one full of interest and life.

At the last session of the general council an ordinance was introduced transferring the plumbing inspector of Atlanta from the board of health department to the building inspector's office, where the complaints of citizens in that line should be lodged and where he should work. That ordinance was referred to the board of health and the two committees—sanitary and tax. By the order in which the committees were named Mr. Colvin, chairman of the ordinance committee, the board of health, and the third member of that committee being the only absentee, Mr. Colvin, chairman of the ordinance committee, Mr. Miller, Mr. Mayson and Mr. Day, Mr. Maddox, the fifth member of this committee, being out of town, could not attend.

The absentees were represented by several of the most widely known plumbers in Atlanta, and before the session was over it was apparent that they were well represented. Among the plumbers were Mr. Hunnicutt, Mr. Franklin and Mr. Yarbrough, all well-known and successful business men of Atlanta.

MUST THIS MONEY BE FORFEITED?

The Sum of $92,500 Becomes a Bone of Contention Before Judge Newman.

IN CHAMBERS THIS MORNING

The Story of the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad To Be Rehearsed.

JUDGE TOMPKINS WANTS A FORFEITURE

But Mr. Jack Spalding Wants To Hold The Purchasers Liable—Both Motions Will Be Resisted.

Judge Newman will be called upon this morning, in his judicial capacity, to decide upon the tangled web of the Marietta and North Georgia railroad litigation.

On account of the large financial interests involved in this investigation the decision of Judge Newman will be a matter of very deep concern to the residents of Tennessee and Georgia.

Public interest in the fate of the Marietta and North Georgia railroad has taken the form of several questions:

Will the present sale to the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Construction Company be canceled and will the road be put under the auctioneer's hammer a second time?

If a second sale of the road is ordered by Judge Newman will the property bring as good a price as it did on the first sale?

Again, if the present sale is set aside will the purchasers of the road, who have paid into court the sum of $92,500, be compelled to forfeit that amount by reason of their failure to raise the balance of the money?

If the road is not put on the market a second time will the purchasers of the road be held individually responsible for the purchase money and required to assume the obligation of the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Construction Company?

In a legal form these questions will be submitted to Judge Newman this morning. Judge Henry B. Tompkins, representing the Central Trust Company of New York, and the Boston Trust Company, has already served notice on the various parties interested that he intends to ask for forfeiture of the sum of $92,500 paid into court by the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Construction Company and also for a second exposure of the property for sale to the highest bidder at public outcry.

This motion, so far as it seeks to accomplish a forfeiture of the road, will be strongly resisted by the attorneys who represent the purchasers, Messrs. Alex and Victor Smith. It will be shown by them that the purchasers of the road acted in good faith and that failure on their part to raise the balance of the money was due to the failure of certain negotiations on which they had depended.

As to whether the purchasers will ask for more time or, confessing their inability to meet the obligations entailed upon them by the purchase, request that the money already paid into court be refunded, is not known.

Still another feature of the case is the one in which the Knickerbocker Trust Company is interested. Negotiations were made with this syndicate by the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Construction Company for raising the necessary funds in pursuance of an understanding the sum of $92,500 was advanced to the company, however, was not satisfied with the securities offered by the company and refused to advance further sums until eight months later was offered. This collateral was not given and the matter came to a standstill. After making a fruitless effort to negotiate with other parties and obtaining the assent of the court, the company no longer the purchasers virtually announced their inability to raise the money by failing to make a second payment on the 15th of this month.

Representing still another branch of the case Mr. Jack J. Spalding, as the attorney for the Gate City National bank, will ask this morning that the purchase of the road be held liable for the purchase money on their individual responsibility.

The claim of the Gate City National bank covers a sum of $40,000 advanced to the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad, thereby enabling him to pay the operating expenses of the road. This money was advanced on certificates issued by the receiver.

The litigation has assumed a most intricate and complex form, but the judicial insight of Judge Newman will at once decide the merits of the case and a decision will doubtless be satisfactory to all parties interested.

CAN SEE ALEX CARR

He Is No Longer Isolated from His Near Relatives.

AL' RESTRICTIONS RESCINDED

Carr's Father and Brother Are Again Allowed To Visit and Give Him Food.

Alex Carr is no longer isolated from his father and brother. Those relatives are allowed to visit him in his cell at the county jail. Their visits have been permitted by the jail officials for several days, although it was supposed that Carr had been ordered kept alone.

Before the report of the experts on the condition of Carr, which was submitted to Governor Atkinson, the aged father of the condemned man and his brother, John Carr, had been denied the privilege of visiting Alex in his cell. It was thought then that he would be hanged, the supreme court having decided that a new trial would not be allowed.

Carr is under sentence to be hanged Friday, March 27th, two weeks from yesterday. His case is now in the hands of Governor Atkinson, and it is probable that one of the first acts of the executive when he returns to the city will be to take action on the case. It is said that there is no hope which would permit the governor to order Carr to the asylum as an insane man, but the point can be surmounted by the governor. He has it in his power to rescind the sentence and Carr will be free.

There are now five men confined in the county jail charged with murder. Of that number three have been convicted and sentenced. Their cases are held up by appeals for new trials except in the case of Alex Carr. Two of the men are yet to be tried.

Those who are in the jail on the charge of murder are: Cord Howsorth, J. P. Bryant and Arthur Hine, the latter the last to be arrested. Howsorth and Bryant were convicted and sentenced. Carr's case has not been decided yet. It is now in the hands of the governor for final disposition.

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

During these winter days the society girl is busy in many ways and she seems to enjoy the relief from formal ways.

There are a number who ride the bicycle, both morning and afternoon, and seem to enjoy the biting wind that blows against their curls but brings the most charming color to their cheeks. Among the many who ride there are some who are as graceful on the wheel as Miss Rebe Lowe, Miss Marie Goldsmith, Miss Lucy Peel and Miss Lila Belle Hemphill.

Quite a number of girls are devoting themselves to reading, and one charming creature who prides herself on her stylish gowns is making her own shirt waists for the spring, going to the end of trouble hemstitching the dainty ruffles that will form either side of the box plait that holds her dainty turquoise studs. Among the society girls who combine domestic pursuits with the accomplishments of music, art and all the finishing touches that make up the attractive young woman may be mentioned Miss Laura Falk. She is especially gifted in the art of dainty handwork and fashions many of her airy summer gowns. It is not every day one meets a girl who can chat in French and German, sing the sweetest songs, paint the pretty cups and saucers on her tea table and then make the charming organdie gowns in which she entertains her admirers.

Miss Liane Venable is another clever society girl, who not only is charming in all her accomplishments but she is a finished woman, but reads as easily in the French language as she does in her own. She seems to impart her knowledge of the French in the many chic costumes she fashions herself. Many of her prettiest summer gowns being the result of her quiet mornings at her lovely, summer home.

Miss Virginia Arnold designs and makes many of her stylish silk and shirt waists, and is skilled in all the arts of dainty handwork.

There are some girls who are taking this "busy season" not only to busy themselves with practical affairs, but to reflect over their "affairs of the heart." One pretty brown-eyed beauty, who numbers her admirers by the score, was more or less puzzled by one of her admirers, and determined, after hearing that a certain man in a distant country could read character by handwriting, to send him a letter of introduction, to see if he could read her.

After a short time the writing was returned and the analysis accompanying it pronounced an excellent pen portrait of the gentleman in question. He is widely known and popular and his admirers are many. He is not only a good writer, but a good reader, and his handwriting is a masterpiece.

GOZA AS A PAINTER

The Alleged Conspirator Uses a Brush
In the County Jail.

RATHER WORK THAN BE IDLE

He Will Paint the Offices—Mrs. Rothery Visits Her Husband—Rheumatism Getting Fat.

Walter C. Goza, the alleged conspirator who is said to have furnished Will Myers a pistol before his escape from the county jail, has turned painter in jail. Yesterday morning he began whitening and sweeping brushes of paint about the woodwork of the jail office and the building generally, under the direction of Jailer Eubanks. Before noon he had partially covered the place with a coat of paint and brightened it up considerably.

Goza complained of his confinement in a cell and said that he was anxious to do something. He asked the jailer to allow him to work in the office or do something to break the monotony of his life in a cell. Mr. Eubanks asked him if he could paint, and when Goza told him about the woodwork of the jail office and the building generally, under the direction of Jailer Eubanks. Before noon he had partially covered the place with a coat of paint and brightened it up considerably.

Will Aid Her Husband.

Mrs. Herbert Rothery, the wife of the alleged diamond crook, again visited her husband in the jail yesterday morning. She carried her two little children to see their father and it was an affecting scene when the family sat together. Mrs. Rothery will remain in the city for some time, probably until after the trial of her husband. She believes in his innocence of the charge against him and will do all in her power to secure his freedom.

Rothery is alleged to have carried away several hundred dollars' worth of diamonds from the establishment of Mr. Freeman, on Whitehall street, during the exposition last fall.

Rothery and a man named Frank Dale entered the store and looked at a lot of fine diamonds. Shortly after their departure the clerks discovered that a quantity of diamonds had been stolen. The diamonds were valued at $1,500. Rothery and Dale were suspected and Mr. Freeman and the police began a search for the men. Several hours afterwards Rothery was found at the union depot and pointed out to the detective. He was arrested, but the officers have never been able to locate Dale.

Rheumatism a Model Prisoner.

H. E. Rheumatism will be remembered, figured in the eyes of the public as a gigantic bank swindler two months ago, is one of the most prosperous of the county jail. He has grown as fat as the proverbial pig since his incarceration here.

Rheumatism has never given the jail officials the least trouble and by his conduct he has won from them their respect. If such a thing is permissible in an institution of the kind, during the entire time of his confinement he has never received a visitor or letter.

In fact, he has the record for exclusiveness. Soon after taking up his quarters in the jail Rheumatism decided that he would make the best of the life and he has since been a cheerful prisoner. He has many of the comforts of a home and he is a character. He invariably declines to be interviewed by newspaper men.

LOCAL AUXILIARY ORGANIZED

Salvation Army Will Receive Systematic Aid.

The initial steps were taken Friday morning toward forming a permanent organization for raising systematic aid to the Salvation Army work in Atlanta. The organization will be called the Local Auxiliary of the Salvation Army in Atlanta and will elect officers at a call of meeting at some time in the near future. A number of prominent persons already contribute monthly to the support of the army here and many others will be glad to do so when they find the work is put upon a systematic basis. There are many in all classes of society who sympathize with the wonderful aims and methods of the Salvation Army, but who do not care to beat a drum or blow a horn in the street.

The auxiliary affords an opportunity for these friends to give aid in the most practical way. The soldiers who thus are enabled to devote their time to the study and rescue work, in which they are so much needed, instead of spending their energies in begging enough money to keep their rent paid and their hall open.

There is no question that with proper time for organization the Local Auxiliary of the Salvation Army will take its place in Atlanta, as in other large cities, among the most successful and active charities.

TALK ABOUT A DOG.

L. G. Gravitt's Attorney Will Petition
Judge Reid Today.

TROUBLE OVER THE CANINE

A Charge of Larceny, Then a Charge of Malicious Prosecution and Now
a Habeas Corpus Case.

That little trouble about a dog between L.
G. Gravitt and Will Dempsey, two young white men, is multiplying, and the end is not yet in sight.

The case from the beginning to the present time has been reported in The Constitution.
About two weeks ago L. G. Gravitt, who lives at Howells station, on the Western and Atlantic road, lost his dog, which canine was half of the bull species, and the other half cur. He was informed directly after first missing his dog that Will Dempsey,
a young man who lives on Magnolia street, was seen with it coming toward the city. He was told that Dempsey had been with the dog, and determined to catch the dog, Gravitt started immediately to the city. He arrived just twenty minutes after the Western and Atlantic train arrived, and went at once to the conductor, who was on that train and asked him about the man who boarded the train at Howells with a dog, half cur and half bull. The conductor, so Gravitt says, described Dempsey as the man, Gravitt then went to Judge Fouts' court and swore out a warrant against Dempsey charging him with larceny. Dempsey was tried last Saturday and dismissed of the charge. Just before entering into the trial of Dempsey Colonel Wolff, Dempsey's attorney, gave Gravitt notice that he would swear out a warrant for malicious prosecution if he,
Gravitt, insisted upon the trial of Dempsey
on the charge which was strenuously denied. Gravitt insisted upon the trial and Dempsey, true to his word, swore out a warrant for Gravitt, charging him with malicious prosecution. The trial upon this warrant was had yesterday before Judge Fouts, and Gravitt was bound over to appear in the sum of $200.

Today Mr. C. J. Weinberg, Jr., as Gravitt's
attorney will appear before Judge Reid, of the city court, and ask for a habeas corpus, on which to release Gravitt.
In his petition for habeas corpus, Weinberg affirms that he is being wrongfully held, as there is no such charge contained in the criminal code as that upon which he was committed to jail.

The petitioner claims that he took out
the warrant for Dempsey for larceny, according to the advice of Judge Fouts and Colonel Wolff (who was afterwards employed as counsel on the other side), and he had told them the exact status of the dog case—the dog's disappearance and Dempsey's connection with it. He further declares in the petition, which will be presented to Judge Reid today, that the warrant upon which he was committed was changed in form after he first went before Judge Reid, and that change was made without the permission or knowledge of his lawyer. He declares that the warrant as taken by Dempsey charges him with committing the offense of malicious prosecution,
whereas, after being changed by Judge Fouts, or some one connected with his court, it read that he was charged by Dempsey with committing the offense of malicious prosecution, larceny and slander. He further declares that he was not defendant being notified by proof before the court that he was prosecuting without just cause or provocation, which would be slander of libel, under section 447 of the code.

Mr. Weinberg is astonished, he says, that Judge Fouts bound over the man under such a charge. He says that there is no such charge and that the section of the code referred to meant libel only in a civil manner. He says that there is no such charge as malicious prosecution, as the warrant first charged or as it afterwards charged when changed. A civil suit for damages,
he says, is the only way in which Dempsey
can revenge himself on Gravitt.

Yesterday the dog which is the cause of all this trouble was arrested by Sheriff Barnes of Judge Bloodworth's court upon a possessory warrant taken out by Gravitt. The dog was carried to the court and will be delivered to the owner.

SEVERAL DOLLARS AHEAD.

LETTER CARRIERS RECEIVE COM-PENSATION FOR OVERWORK.

Twenty-Four Hearts Made Happier by the Liberty of Uncle Sam.

Under a recent statute enacted by the congress of the United States no letter carrier is allowed to work longer than eight hours a day. This law has proved a great benefit to the letter carriers, who have been suffering from making claims against the government for overwork, thereby causing much annoyance to Uncle Sam.

Before this law was passed, however, the Atlanta mail carriers had performed a certain amount of overwork that they considered themselves entitled to extra compensation.

Taking this view of the matter they decided to prosecute their claims and employed the legal services of Messrs. Burton Smith and Shepard Bryan.

As the result of the efforts put forth by these attorneys in behalf of their several clients the claim of the letter carriers was allowed by congress. A check for this amount was received last Saturday by the Atlanta mail carriers and they were paid
the amount of overwork that they considered themselves entitled to extra compensation.

The largest allowance for overwork was $60.30, paid to Joseph Thomas. The smallest was $7.67. This was paid to E. R.
Drakeford.

Twenty-four letter carriers were included in this distribution, and twenty-four hearts were made happier by reason of their financial consolation.

The largest allowance for overwork was $60.30, paid to Joseph Thomas. The smallest was $7.67. This was paid to E. R.
Drakeford.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckles, comptroller of the currency, do hereby certify that the Third National Bank of Atlanta, in the city of Atlanta, in the county of Fulton and state of Georgia, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section 559 of the revised statutes of the United States.

During March

Colds and chills are prevalent, and unless the system is strong enough to throw them off, serious illness, often ending in pneumonia and death,
results.

The Cause

Of colds, chills and attendant
dangers is found in the blood, poisoned by uric acid which should be expelled by the kidneys.

The Effect

Of this kidney-poisoned blood is far-reaching. Health and strength are impossible while it exists. The system is being continually weakened, leaving it open to the ravages of colds,
chills, pneumonia and fevers.

The Cure

For such a diseased condition is found in Warner's Safe Cure, which will restore the kidneys to health and enable them to properly perform their junctions. There is no doubt about this. The record of the past is

Proof Positive.

THE SIXTH WARD PULSE FEELER

The Race for the Place Dr. Harris's
Death Caused Is Lively.

The members of the general council will
find an interesting problem before them
when the election of a sixth ward physician is called up Monday afternoon next.
Not only the selection of a physician to succeed the late Dr. Harris will demand
the attention of the council, but the
salaries which are now accorded to the sixth ward and fourth ward physicians will be discussed, and it may be, if
the law will permit, a change in the salaries will be made.

In the event there is a change in the salaries allotted to the two wards there will
be a change in the work the two ward physicians do.

The pay of all the ward physicians except three is $600 a year. The third ward
physician draws $800 and the sixth ward
physician the same. The additional $200 goes to the ward which is located in one and the same station house in the other.

The physicians in these two wards have attended the two previous elections for the other work in the wards, and it was for
that reason the salaries were made larger
than those allotted to the other wards.

"I have seen," said Mr. Adamson, "investigating the matter and reports of the
ward physicians sent to the general council at every meeting of the council, and in
the clerk's office show that the fourth
ward physician, Dr. J. H. Harlow, has
the other ward physicians put together.

The reports show that I think it is due
to the fact that the fourth ward physician has done all the work in the ward
in that ward. It's just on the line
of the wards, the map will show you."

Mr. Adamson said that he had seen the list at present contains the names of
Dr. J. H. Harlow, Dr. J. H. Harlow,
Smith, Bizzell, Grandy, Asher, Redwine,
Purse, Riley and Price.

WILL GATHER THIS AFTERNOON

The Laws Governing the Gas Inspector
Are Written.

Mr. Woodward, chairman of the special committee on the creation of the office of
gas inspector, will show the members of
the special committee this afternoon what
he has done.

At the last meeting of the committee Mr.
Woodward was asked to codify the rules
relative to the position. The work has been completed and to Mr. Thomas, Mr.
Colvin and Mr. Tolbert, the members of the committee, Mr. Woodward will read his code this afternoon. The paper is not a long one. On the contrary, it is a model
of brevity and is made up of five governing principles. The code defines the duties of the new officer and the manner in which he is selected. It shows that the pay will come into the treasury from the gas company and the consumers of gas. It shows that the office will be one of great benefit
to the city and that it will add one penny
to the payroll of officers.

The indications are that the special committee will report on the paper and that it will be adopted without opposition by
the general council.

THE ROBBER HELD.

Ernest Ward Will Be Prosecuted for
Snatching Miss Crane's Money.

Ernest Ward, the highway robber who
was arrested last Saturday on South
Pryor street Thursday at noon, is still locked up at the police station. The arresting officers, Crussell and Dykes, will take steps in his case this morning. A warrant will be sworn out against him and
he will be remanded to jail to await trial
for the robbery charge against him. The evidence against him is conclusive. He attempted to escape with the money, but was
captured by a negro man who saw him
grab the pocketbook from the young lady.

The members of the general council will
find an interesting problem before them
when the election of a sixth ward physician is called up Monday afternoon next.
Not only the selection of a physician to
succeed the late Dr. Harris will demand
the attention of the council, but the
salaries which are now accorded to the
sixth ward and fourth ward physi-
the law will permit, a change in the salaries will be made.

In the event there is a change in the salaries allotted to the two wards there will
be a change in the work the two ward physicians do.

The pay of all the ward physicians except three is $600 a year. The third ward
physician draws $800 and the sixth ward
physician the same. The additional $200 goes to the ward which is located in one and the same station house in the other.

The physicians in these two wards have
attended the two previous elections for the
other work in the wards, and it was for
that reason the salaries were made larger
than those allotted to the other wards.

"I have seen," said Mr. Adamson, "investigating the matter and reports of the
ward physicians sent to the general council at every meeting of the council, and in
the clerk's office show that the fourth
ward physician, Dr. J. H. Harlow, has
the other ward physicians put together.

The reports show that I think it is due
to the fact that the fourth ward physician has done all the work in the ward
in that ward. It's just on the line
of the wards, the map will show you."

Mr. Adamson said that he had seen the
list at present contains the names of
Dr. J. H. Harlow, Dr. J. H. Harlow,
Smith, Bizzell, Grandy, Asher, Redwine,
Purse, Riley and Price.

WILL GATHER THIS AFTERNOON

The Laws Governing the Gas Inspector
Are Written.

Mr. Woodward, chairman of the special committee on the creation of the office of
gas inspector, will show the members of
the special committee this afternoon what
he has done.

At the last meeting of the committee Mr.
Woodward was asked to codify the rules
relative to the position. The work has been completed and to Mr. Thomas, Mr.
Colvin and Mr. Tolbert, the members of the committee, Mr. Woodward will read
his code this afternoon. The paper is not
a long one. On the contrary, it is a model
of brevity and is made up of five governing principles. The code defines the duties of
the new officer and the manner in which he is selected. It shows that the pay will
come into the treasury from the gas company and the consumers of gas. It shows
that the office will be one of great benefit
to the city and that it will add one penny
to the payroll of officers.

The indications are that the special committee will report on the paper and that
it will be adopted without opposition by
the general council.

THE ROBBER HELD.

Ernest Ward Will Be Prosecuted for
Snatching Miss Crane's Money.

Ernest Ward, the highway robber who
was arrested last Saturday on South
Pryor street Thursday at noon, is still
locked up at the police station. The arresting officers, Crussell and Dykes, will take steps in his case this morning. A warrant will be sworn out against him and
he will be remanded to jail to await trial
for the robbery charge against him. The evidence against him is conclusive. He attempted to escape with the money, but was
captured by a negro man who saw him
grab the pocketbook from the young lady.
